

Jordans Corporate Law: the driving force behind the automotive industry

Specialist legal advice oils the wheels of the automotive industry and ‘just in time’ production often demands ‘just in time’ legal support. At Jordans Corporate Law Limited, our solicitors have considerable experience in the sector, which means that we can deliver a fast, flexible service without compromising or over-complicating your commercial priorities.

You can count on us for one-off projects or to work as part of your in-house team, and however you choose to tap into our legal expertise, you can be sure of:

- ✓ An experienced team that knows your sector
- ✓ Continuation of service so you’re always covered
- ✓ Price certainty with fixed costs
- ✓ Location flexibility (we can work from your premises if you wish)

We understand your needs

The fast pace and specialist nature of the automotive industry means that finding expert legal support can be challenging. You need a legal team that understands the sector, can respond quickly and won’t cost the earth. And you also need that team to deliver advice that’s practical, commercially-minded and mindful of your legal risks.

At Jordans Corporate Law Limited, our service has been created to meet and exceed these specific needs. Our specialist solicitors all have automotive sector experience, so we understand your industry. We know the questions to ask, we know what’s important to you and we know that you’ll appreciate an adaptive, reactive service.

And because we’re part of the renowned Jordans Group, you know you’re in safe hands.

Our services

You'll probably appreciate that the majority of the legal work required by the automotive sector relates to contracts within the supply chain, so that's what we focus on. Our services are built around the competent drafting and negotiation of these contracts and we cover the full range of production and non-production contracts including international contracts, research and development contracts and on offering advice on the implications of competition law.

Some examples of our recent work include:

- Drafting and negotiating collaboration agreements with tier 1 suppliers for the development of new vehicle technology
- Representing a client at an automotive standards-setting organisation and advising on the implementation of standards-setting in accordance with competition law
- Advising on and drafting agreements for the manufacture, installation and commissioning of machinery for production lines in the UK and in overseas manufacturing plants

You're in control

You can access our legal expertise in whichever way suits you and your company. So whether you need legal support for a specific one-off project or additional resource for an existing team by way of secondment, we'll create a solution for you. Here are just a few of the ways of working we have devised with recent clients:

- A full-time secondment with an automotive manufacturer at a daily rate
- Dealing with all a client's contract drafting, advice and negotiation for a fixed monthly fee
- Heavily discounted hourly rates in return for a guaranteed number of hours purchased

Get in touch to discuss your requirements and we'll do our very best to make sure your needs are met.

Solicitors you can count on

Helen Wright

Helen has spent two years working in the in-house legal team at Jaguar Land Rover. She has spent a further nine months working at JLR on a full-time secondment and continues to advise the company on both production and non-production contracts.

Simon Bates

Simon has over 20 years' experience in advising on commercial contracts. He has spent most of that time based in the West Midlands and has consequently advised numerous automotive suppliers. He has also advised OEMs such as Caterpillar and JLR.

Debbie Farman

As well as working in a leading international law firm, Debbie has worked in-house at a major outsourcing company, as well as on secondment at Lotus cars.

Parvaneh Naseriyan

Parvaneh is the latest addition to our automotive team. She advises exclusively within the automotive sector and spends at least three days per week working at an OEM's premises. She advises on and drafts a broad range of contracts.
